About the 2024 Western Conference on Safety

2024 will mark the 26th running of the Western Conference on Safety. The very first conference was in 1996 with 150 delegates and 25 exhibit booths. The 25th conference was a sell out with over 900 delegates and 50 tradeshow booths. For the 2024 conference we are increasing the number of tradeshow booths to 80 and attendance to approximately 900 delegates (subject to change depending on BC Public Health Office recommendations at the time of the conference)

Who Attends the Conference?

Your sponsorship of this event will put you and your logo squarely in front of decision makers and workplace influencers from western Canada including British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Yukon Territories, Northwest Territories and Nunavut. Utilities, compensation boards, universities, municipalities, mining companies, manufacturing, transportation, First Nations, healthcare, construction, unions – we have broad representation from many organizations. The attendees are safety committee members, safety captains, supervisors, managers, trade safety coordinators, construction safety officers, safety coordinators, safety consultants, business owners, regulators and many others who influence or are responsible for safety on the worksite. This is your target market!
