About the 2026 Western Conference on Safety

In 2026, the Western Conference on Safety will celebrate its 28th edition—a remarkable milestone in its impressive journey since its humble beginnings in 1996, when it welcomed just 150 delegates and 25 exhibit booths. The 2025 conference was a complete sell-out, hosting over 900 delegates and 80 tradeshow booths! As we look forward to 2026, we're excited to continue building on this success, bringing together safety professionals from across Western Canada for two days of learning, connection, and collaboration.

Who Attends the Conference?

Elevate your brand visibility by sponsoring the Western Conference on Safety, where your logo and organization will be prominently showcased to a powerful audience of decision-makers and influencers across Western Canada. Our event draws attendees from a diverse range of industries—utilities, compensation boards, municipalities, mining, transportation, First Nations, construction, and more. You'll connect directly with safety committee members, managers, safety officers, consultants, business owners, and key regulators—all individuals who shape safety culture in their organizations. This is your prime opportunity to engage with your target market and solidify your presence in the industry.
